

My motivation is:

Among the 41 university collaborating with EIUC I choose the New University of Lisbon for three main reasons: the most important is that it granted me the opportunity to research in the field I was interested in. Moreover I was stimulated by the freshness of the faculty and the possibility to extend my perspectives once there. The other reasons are non-academic: I wanted to learn Portuguese and I was sure that Lisbon and Portugal would have been a great place for living.
